

Book Review:

The HAT MAN-a true story of evil encounters by Heidi Hollis

On the topic of the Hat Man and the Shadow People Heidi Hollis is the number one expert. She was the first person to introduce this topic to the public.

In her latest book called, The Hat Man, Heidi has amassed volumes of accounts of the Hat Man sightings. She starts with her own experiences and works her way through endless stories of this evil phenomenon that has been shared with her by people from all over the world.

Heidi's experience with the Shadow People and the Hat Man date back many years: this led to her documenting these encounters and reaching out to others about this topic. Her research eventually led to the birth of her book, "The Secret War" and to the start of her web site devoted to Shadow People and the Hat Man encounters: www.facebook.com/groups/ShadowpeopleHatMan/

Some of the cases documented by the author include sightings outside house windows, encounters in people's homes, terrifying bedside visits, attempted smothering of people, physical sightings in car rearview mirrors, terrorizing small children in their cribs, choking individuals, verbally threatening people and more.

The part I liked best about the book besides all the information Heidi has gathered on this evil topic is the hope and help she gives people. She tells you how to bless your home to keep evil out. She tells you how to protect yourself and your loved ones. She also tells you how to repel these demons and immediately send them away. She advises on calling on Jesus and God as your most important defense. Demons and negative aliens cannot stay in the light of Jesus or God.

I especially loved the last chapter in which she asks everyone to fight the battle taking place right now between good and evil... the battle for your soul. She asks you not to fight this alone but to turn to other knowledgeable individuals on this topic. The more people that speak up and share their experiences the more knowledge we can amass to protect ourselves.

I'm so grateful to Heidi for sharing her knowledge, beliefs, advice and her love for her fellow humans in spite of all the mental and physical persecution she's been through and is still experiencing.

Heidi, thank you for your Hat Man book as well as all your other books... all of which are a Must Read!

Heidi Hollis also hosts a paranormal broadcast called Heidi Hollis-The Outlander. She is also the co-host on the Kevin Cook Show. Both online radio shows are currently on the Inception Radio Network.
